WEEKLY SUMMARY.....13-14

FEEDSTUFFS: WHOLESALE PRICES.....15-16

HIGHLIGHTS:

Grain bids were mostly lower for the week while soybean bids showed sharp advances. Wheat 1 to 9 cents lower with KC soft wheat 22 cents lower. Corn 7 cents lower to 4 cents higher. Sorghum 5 to 9 cents lower. Soybeans 6 to 10 cents higher except Minneapolis 3 cents lower. Wheat bids fell moderately lower for the week due to wet weather forecast for winter wheat growing areas in the southern Plains. Trade concerns over the very dry conditions has kept some strength in wheat for several days. Limiting declines were very good export orders this week with some good buyers on the books. Export corn orders were good this week but still slow for the year. Farmer selling continues light for corn as producers hope for a boost in prices. Stronger soybean bids were due to mid-week fund buying. Soybean oil and meal prices were up and down this week. Export sales were very light with only Taiwan interested.

WEEKLY SUMMARY.....	19-20
FEEDSTUFFS: WHOLESALE PRICES.....	21-22
FEEDSTUFFS: WHOLESALE PRICES FOR NOVEMBER 1999.....	23-24

HIGHLIGHTS:

Favorable wheat growing weather, profit taking on the Board, and sluggish bean exports were all pressure factors for grain and soybean bids this week. Wheat 1 to 11 cents lower. Corn mostly 2 to 9 cents lower. Sorghum 1 cent higher in Kansas city with Texas 5 cents lower. Soybeans 13 to 14 cents lower with no bid from Minneapolis. Winter wheat crop outlook is better this week after beneficial moisture fell in the Southwest and Southeast US. Additional moisture is forecast for these areas. Another weakening point was reports that Argentine production estimate was increased this week and with World wheat stocks growing and prices near a 25 year low, wheat will soon be entered into more livestock rations. Very good export sales this week limited losses in wheat as several big buyers in the game. Political turmoil in Russia, however, is expected to slow the aid package down till later. Corn bids declined on pressure from wheat bids and fund selling on the Board this week. There are lots of cattle in feedlots at this time but hog numbers are expected to decline and feed ingredient competition is growing. Korea and Japan were major importers of US corn this week with good tonnage totals on the books. Soybean export demand was disappointing for the week and lower meal and oil prices undermined bids. Rainfall was reported in Brazil's dry growing areas this week.

ALFALFA MEAL: PRODUCTION & STOCKS for SEPTEMBER 1999.....	17

HIGHLIGHTS:

Wheat bids were slightly higher due to another good week of export sales and dry conditions returned to hard red winter wheat areas. Corn bids also advanced on good foreign demand as well as some fund buying on the Board. Soybean bids, however, continued sharply lower with very light exports offer any support and late week fund selling pushed bids lower. Wheat steady to 4 cents higher except Minneapolis 9 cents lower. Corn 5 to 11 cents higher. Sorghum steady to 10 cents higher. Soybeans 6 to 9 cents lower. Minneapolis has had no wheat bid for the past week. Egypt and Japan were major importers of US wheat this week. Last week's moisture that fell in winter wheat growing areas has stopped but more is needed as soil moisture levels remain low. Corn bids followed wheat higher again and good export orders last week and this week offered support. Cold weather continues across the nation and livestock feeding has increased but competition is great. Cheap wheat prices have put wheat into a large part of feed rations. Profit taking was noted late in the week for soybeans as prices fell sharply. Meal and oil showed some strength early week but finished slightly lower. Export demand continued sluggish for beans and by-products.

WEEKLY SUMMARY.....	13-14
FEEDSTUFFS: WHOLESALE PRICES.....	15-16

HIGHLIGHTS:

Trading was fairly slow mid-week as the long holiday weekend nears. Grain and soybean bids were up and down throughout the week but ended higher due to good export demand and some crop concerns. Wheat 4 to 12 cents higher. Corn 3 to 5 cents higher. Sorghum 10 to 12 cents higher. Soybeans 15 to 16 cents higher. Wheat bids were moderately higher, supported by good export business by Japan and South Korea. Indications Pakistan has approved imports for another 18 million bushels of US wheat also boosted bids. Dry weather returned to the southern Plains areas this week and traders are concerned about the hard red winter wheat crop. Moderate gains were noted in corn pits late in the week with a couple good export orders on the books. Light farmer selling this week was a positive factor. Spillover strength from wheat and corn and improved demand for meal and oil underpinned soybean bids. Rainfall in southern Brazil was reported but coverage was not as extensive as needed. Some fairly good foreign sales were announced this week but not enough to push prices too high. Livestock feeding has improved with cold weather moving in and many producers are now using bean meal in feed formulas and also feeding wheat due to cheap prices.

HIGHLIGHTS:

Wheat bids were slightly lower except for soft white wheat. Corn bids made slight advances, despite lack of export orders this week. Soybean bids fell sharply lower on rainy conditions reported in southern Brazil and northern Argentina and light weekly export sales. Wheat steady to 4 cents lower except Portland 4 to 6 cents higher. Corn steady to 4 cents higher. Sorghum steady to 5 cents higher. Soybeans 10 to 14 cents lower. Wheat bids were pressured by the slow export interest. Forecasts continue to call for dry weather conditions in central US. White wheat bids were higher due to overseas purchases and tenders this week. Corn was moderately higher on light farmer selling. However, traders are concerned that producer selling will pick up after the first of the year due to taxes. Export sales were disappointing this week for corn with nothing new announced. Rains reported in southern Brazil and northern Argentina this week gave soybean bids a boost. Many areas remain dry, however, with rains only sporadic.
